ARTIST BIOGRAPHY

Raised in Berlin, Fraenz discovered her passion for electronic music at a young age. As a DJ, she moves between jacking house cuts, dreamy spherical sounds and groovy basslines, also enjoying to peak into techno at times. Her sound bridges old-school roots with a contemporary edge, focusing on a multilayered flow and a driving atmosphere.

Beyond her work as a DJ, Fraenz is the co-founder and label owner of LAYERS, a FLINTA* collective and music label dedicated to highlighting underrepresented voices in electronic music. LAYERS has grown from a community platform into a label showcasing house-driven releases by FLINTA* artists, while continuing to build equality in the industry through Europe-wide showcases, community-driven events, and accessible educational initiatives. With its queer-led, intersectional approach, fraenz and LAYERS stand as a catalyst for change, connection, and stronger representation of fellow artists within the music industry.

Fraenz has played at renowned Berlin institutions such as Panorama Bar, Tresor, OHM and Watergate and across international stages including Tillatec (formerly De School) in Amsterdam and The Green Room in New York City. Her festival appearances span Good2u in Görlitz, Sunnyside in Malta, Lighthouse Festival in Croatia, and Butik Festival in Zanzibar, reflecting her growing international presence and her ability to resonate with diverse dance floors.
