About

PLOT is a newly founded label dedicated to uplifting and empowering QTFLINTA* artists while strongly focusing on elevating BIPOC voices in the music industry. It is a space built on radical inclusion, representation, and artistic freedom - challenging industry norms and amplifying the voices that have long been marginalized.

PLOT is committed to fostering trustful and long-lasting relationships within its community, prioritizing ethical collaborations and fair treatment of artists. Operating with full transparency and a non-hierarchical approach, the label stands as a platform that puts artists first, ensuring they retain creative control over their work.

We reject traditional hierarchies and industry norms that prioritize profit over people. Instead, we are committed to transparency, ethical collaboration, and direct artist empowerment, ensuring that those who create the art remain in control of their work.

At PLOT art has no boundaries - our focus is on bold, genre-defying expressive works that reflects the diverse identities and experiences of our artists. Through releases, collaborative projects, and community-driven initiatives, we aim to foster a thriving network of artists who support, uplift and inspire one another.
